

daily GOOD

Nov 30, 1999

What you leave behind is not what is engraved in stone monuments, but what is woven into the lives of others. --Pericles

Notes Left Behind by A Five-Year-Old

After 5-year-old Elena Desserich was diagnosed with an inoperable kind of cancer, she managed to spread a message of hope and healing. Elena knew that every coming day would be a gift, not to be wasted, so she created a to-do list of sorts -- swim with dolphins, drive a car and more. During her nine-month battle with cancer, Elena was planning an even greater gift for her family. She was hiding notes around the house, hundreds of them tucked in every corner to be discovered after she was gone.

Be The Change:

Surprise someone close to you with a hidden note. Read some of the messages Elena left behind here.