

daily GOOD

If I'm in a boat in the middle of the Atlantic Ocean and the boat is in trouble, who do I want in that boat with me? Those are the people I'd hire. --Jim Crupi

What Great Leadership and Music Have in Common

Management consultant Jim Crupi, who founded and runs Strategic Leadership Solutions, says all leaders should aspire to inspire, just as great music does, pointing out that "Our reaction to a great song can be so visceral that we are forever connected to it...reliving a wonderful moment." In this article he outlines seven ways a good leader can make great music to his staff or followers.

Be The Change:

With Jim's seven suggestions in mind, see if you can make some 'great music' in your family or in the organization you work for.