

daily GOOD

My constant prayer for myself is to be used in service for the greater good. --Oprah Winfrey

The Woman Behind India's First Testing Kit

"India has been criticized for its poor record of testing people in the battle against coronavirus. That, however, is set to change, thanks in large part to the efforts of one virologist, who delivered on a working test kit, just hours before delivering her baby .On Thursday, the first made-in-India coronavirus testing kits reached the market, raising hopes of an increase in screening of patients with flu symptoms to confirm or rule out the Covid-19 infection."

Be The Change:

For more inspiration, here's an interview with Dr. Larry Brilliant, the epidemiologist who led the smallpox eradication program in India: 'Birds and Saints Don't Collect.'