

daily GOOD

Your ordinary acts of love and hope point to the extraordinary promise that every human life is of inestimable value. --Desmond Tutu

SUPERHERO: A Music Video for Our Times

In times of global crises, it becomes increasingly clear that our lives are sustained by millions of gestures, big and small made by everyday people who simply show up to do their little bit, day after day in service of the greater good. This newly released music video 'Superhero' is an ode to everyone in our world who lives like "we are the ones we have been waiting for."

Be The Change:

Thank an everyday superhero in your life today. For more inspirational music videos, check out Empty Hands Music.