Now and then it's good to pause in our pursuit of happiness and just be happy. --Guillaume Apollinaire

Do Good To Fly Free

If you're flying Song Airline, it pays to be nice. The low-cost carrier is giving away free tickets to passengers who are nice to one another. Stash someone else's bag in the overhead compartment, help a flight assistant, or show some other random act of kindness and you could win one of 5000 roundtrip tickets to anywhere that Song flies. Each flight attendant gets four tickets to give away to anyone he or she chooses. And with flying so stressful these days, passengers say it's a great idea to help put people in a good mood.

Be The Change:

Next time you're on a flight, do an act of kindness. Maybe even try to fly on Song Airline and get a ticket. :)
