

daily GOOD

â€œI have not failed. I've just found 10,000 ways that don't work.â€•
--Thomas Edison

An international award celebrates the daily victories of a determined woman born without limbs but with a will to succeed. Though every move of every day poses a challenge - from answering the phone to powering up her desktop - she's not much for bitterness or self-pity. "Your life is what you put into it," said Rindfleisch, fresh off a whirlwind tour of Washington and an audience with President Bush. "If you make it productive and happy, you'll be happy," she said. "If you're always a downer, you won't."

Be The Change:

Do something that others wouldn't think that you are capable of.
