Your actions in life set your course and determine the destination of your travels. Your reactions in life create the climate in which you travel. --Beth Johnson

Bill Beaty says he can eliminate traffic jams without investing a dime and all it takes is one person! Rather than driving up to a traffic jam and stopping, leave space ahead of your car so that by the time you reach the jammed traffic the cars are moving.

Be The Change:

Experiment with Bill Beaty’s theory; next time you’re on the road, keep distance between you and car in front of you.
