To realize that prophecy in the people is like fruit in the tree is to know the unity of life.

--Kahlil Gibran

Prophets Without Robes or Staffs

"Today and always, the prophet confronts a dark object, a menacing, enigmatic, obdurate reality affecting the entire community. How to grasp that dark object? Where are the handholds? What approach would permit one to slow the dark object, to interrogate it, to bring it to light, to dispel and transform its menace?"

Be The Change:

Take a moment to consider who (if anyone) you consider to be the prophets of our time.
