

daily GOOD

What is to give light must endure burning. --Viktor Frankl

While on a teaching and trekking expedition, Dr. Irvine-Halliday had an idea -- to light up rural homes without electricity. He invented White Light Emitting Diodes (WLED) which are powered by energy-renewable water mills, solar panels, wind and water turbines and pedal generators.

Be The Change:

Light up someone's day. Send an e-card to your busiest friend.