

daily GOOD

Perhaps if people talked less, animals would talk more. --E.B. White

Anna Breytenbach: The Animal Communicator

Anna Breytenbach is a professional interspecies communicator and the subject of a documentary titled, 'The Animal Communicator.' Breytenbach's lifework is dedicated to interspecies communication. Over the last couple of decades she has worked with baboons, great white sharks, big cats, and other creatures across multiple continents, astounding people with her capacity to connect with animals in all kinds of different settings and situations. What follows is an interview between Charles Eisenstein and Breytenbach.

Be The Change:

Watch this short excerpt from a documentary on Breytenbach's work that captures her transformative encounter with a troubled black leopard.